

THE SCOUT

Photographs from Oxygen Media

Tori's B&B glam

By DAVID A. KEEPS
Times Staff Writer

WHEN actress Tori Spelling and husband Dean McDermott bought a Fallbrook bed-and-breakfast for their new reality TV show, "Tori & Dean: Inn Love," the design brief was simple. "No floral sofas and no doilies," says Mike Valles, co-founder of Interior

Illusions, the West Hollywood store that outfitted the newly christened Chateau La Rue (named for Spelling's pug) in three weeks. "Tori wanted Hollywood Regency glam." The red lounge, shown above, got a big bang for a few bucks. Valles painted the ceiling red and trimmed the Greek key chair rail in a Ralph Lauren metallic paint to match a faux silver-leaf wallpaper. The furnishings? The semi-glossy red leather sectional ($2,499), the black leather swivel chair ($525), the white lacquer and chrome coffee table ($399) and the mercury glass lamp with the damask print shade ($350) can be found at Valles' store, www.interiorillusionscalifornia.com. And the show? It can be found on the Oxygen network.